JOHN C. PECON.

The Building Association League of Pennsylvania has appointed a committee to prepare and forward to Congress and members of affiliated organizations a memorial praying for the defeat of the proposed clause of the Wilson Bill imposing a tax on building associations.

The estate of the late James Emmitt of Waverly will probably not exceed $150,000. The appraisement amounted to $250,450, but there are mortgages and outstanding obligations that will reduce it over $100,000. D. A. Emmitt of this city is one of the interested parties.

Mr. BURGE Rose bought a lot of the Mayville Real Estate Company for $100, and will build on it.

PAULINE GOODMAN, brother of Mrs. Rosa Noland of this city, died recently at Georgetown.

MISS BURGE Rose bought a lot of the Mayville Real Estate Company for $100, and will build on it.

The new office of Police Judge Walsh shows up handsomely under the artistic brush of Major J. F. Lee.

REV. THOMAS R. MARKAN, an uncle by marriage of Mrs. Nat S. Wood of this city, died in New Orleans recently.

PORTSMOUTH is to have a new opera-house the coming season that will eclipse anything in this line that has been built in any river town of late.

J. A. ANTE, a merchant tailor of Covington, has made an assignment, because he could no longer "ante" in the Cleveland game of good times.

GUARD KILLIPATRICK of Shannon will be a candidate for Superintendent of the County Infirmary at the approaching session of the Court of Claims.

The ladies of the W. R. C. will entertain Cooper Hall tomorrow and Saturday evening with beans, hot coffee, ice cream and fruits. Everybody invited.

REV. GEORGE MANIFOLD of the Lexington Bible College passed through the city Monday, en route home from filling his regular third Sunday appointment at Galilee Church near Roetterville.

GOV. BROWN has signed the joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of State to purchase for use of the state and county offices 1,500 copies of Barbour and Carroll's new General Statutes.

GOVERNOR BROWN voted the bill allowing Judge R. H. Thompson of the Louisville City Court $1,000 for his services in examining trials in addition to the $5,000 salary previously fixed by law.

THE LAST SAD RITES.

An Honored Citizen Yesterday Laid to Rest by Loving Hands.

The funeral of the late Dr. Charles Wain was largely attended yesterday afternoon, about 200 members of fraternal Order joining in procession.

It was one of the largest and most impressive funerals that have taken place in this city for many years.

The ceremonies at the grave were of a touching character, and revealed the esteem in which Dr. Wardle was held by the various brotherhoods to which he belonged.

The pallbearers were John T. Martin and A. H. Thompson, representing Mason Lodge No. 34, F. A. M.; Allen A. Edmonds and Simon Nelson, from the Oddfellows; J. W. Piper, from the P. O. S. A.; J. C. Rainey and John L. Chamberlain, from the K. of P. and Theo. Lowry, from the A. O. U. W.

At the conclusion of the ritualistic services at the cemetery, the Rev. W. O. Cochran of the Central Presbyterian Church, invoked the benediction of the Master, when slowly the large assembly withdrew, leaving the mortal remains of a beloved son, brother, husband and honored citizen to rest beneath the lovely greenward of a glorious springtime—typical of the resurrection that awaits his immortal body.

Dr. Wardle's sons have made comfortable provision for those dependent upon him, his investments for life insurance and endowments netting some $7,500.

His family will receive from the Royal American $3,000; A. O. W. $3,000; Equitable Life Insurance Co. $1,000; Prudential $1,000, which, with the sum that will be paid by the Oddfellows, Knights of Pythias, P. O. S. A. and the Oddfellow's Funeral Aid Association, will approximate that amount.

FRANK P. SCHANCE the Lexington forger has been taken to the Penitentiary, to serve ten years. The parting with his devoted wife and two innocent children was very affecting.

MRS. CAMILLA MORAN died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in her home in Christian Bottom after a lingering illness, in her 80th year. The funeral, which will be conducted by Rev. W. W. Hall, will be held at the house this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

FRANCIS J. SAUNDERS of Paris and Miss Jennie Mills of Flemingsburg will marry on the 28th at 3 p.m. They will come at once to Mayville, hence to New Orleans on their bridal tour.

An investigation shows that JOHN V. McKEAN has failed to account for at least $200,000 of Gravestones bonds, some of which have been disposed of illegally by the Democratic vote-buyer and general hoodlum.

R. G. DUN & CO.'s trade review for the past week says:

Prices of commodities are this week, on the whole, the lowest of which there is any record, having declined 1.2 per cent. in March, and averaging 11.5 per cent. lower than a year ago, so that more than a third of the decrease in volume of all payments is due to decline in prices of things consumed.

All of which reminds us—

Two journeymen carpenters were looking at BROWNING & CO.'s window display of $1 shirts on Saturday last.

"Well," said one, "that's mighty cheap."

"Yes," replied his companion; "but where the Devil are you going to get the dollar? If they were 10 cents apiece I couldn't buy one."

ENGLISH agriculturists are not satisfied with their experience of Free-trade. A correspondent in The Mark Lane Express of January 8th,

A False Prophet, Mr. JAMES HUNT, 12 Hampton Park, Bristol, wrote:

If we are to compare Nation with Nation we can prove that American Protectionist artisans are earning and saving more money than English Free-traders are.

The writer concludes his communication with the following significant paragraph:

A FALSE PROPHET. Some of Cobden's assertions that converted Peel and Gladstone: Proofs of false prophecy.

"Land would not be driven out of cultivation by the repeal of the Corn Laws."

"Land owners having no fear from Free-Trade in corn, rents and agricultural land values will fall to 50 per cent."

"In a country growing in population and advancing in prosperity, land always increases in value and without any help from the owners."

"The land of England would produce 25,000,000 qrs. of wheat per annum."

"We shall always have a natural protection of 10s. 6d. per qr. on wheat in the shape of a tariff abroad."

"We might as well do without the tariff as the mutton tax, as doubt that in ten years every civilized Nation on earth would do the same and end our Free-trade example."

In the discussion of "free raw materials" an important provision of the McKinley Law has been forgotten.

Mr. MCKINLEY, in a speech in the House on May 7th, 1890, in answer to a question by Mr. SPRINGER, said: "It applies to anything which manufacturers choose to import for purposes of manufacture. If my friend wants to engage in the manufacture of cloth, and he wants free wool, he can get within 1 per cent. of his free wool and engage in the manufacture under this provision of the law, and the more export trade is open to him if he gets the foreign market better than home market." (See Tariff Law page 100, section 25.)

"This is the intention of the McKinley

Tariff, the shoemaker, the hatmaker, the harness maker, the tailor, in fact any and every trade has free trade in raw materials for export trade. If the Democrats honestly want practically free raw materials for purposes of export they can get it under the McKinley Law.

LIKEWISE A SQUALL. Toledo Blade.—The Cleveland Leader says the baby show is a "howling success." Some persons might think it is a crying evil.

THE REBUKE UNQUALIFIED. Buffalo News.—The defeat of Colonel Brown is a distinct condemnation of the Populist Wilson Tariff, with or without the income tax.

LOGIC IS LOGIC. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—The man who is dissatisfied with a tax on whisky has only to quit using the article, and he will not have a cent of it to pay.

ROUTH YOU ARE. Ft. Worth Gazette.—The Nicaraguan canal should be constructed under the auspices of the United States Government. Our political and commercial interests require it.

"TARIFF REFORM" COMES HIGH. Ukia Herald.—Votes for the Wilson Bill are a distinct condemnation of the United States Senate, but the party hostile to the welfare of our people had to have them, so it paid $40,000 for the two Louisiana Senators.

W. C. T. FORENSIC CAPACITY. Chicago Dispatch.—There seems to be no doubt that Congressman Breckinridge is in a position to speak with considerable authority on all matters connected with his celebrated lecture on "Social Priority."

BUT IT'S A REPUBLICAN COUNTY. Waterloo Times.—There has never been a dishonest election in St. Lawrence county; there has never been a time when any citizen could not cast his ballot in peace and be sure that it would be counted as cast.

A CAPITAL VIEW. Washington Post.—The Ohio State Legislature is reported to be in a bankrupt condition. The one consulting polot in this disaster is that there being no money to appropriate, the Legislature may adjourn earlier than usual.

THE SOLE REMEDY. Baltimore Democrat and Chronicle.—Let Congress kill the Wilson Bill and give notice to the country that no change will be made in the McKinley Law, and factories will open, and the unemployed will find work, business will boom and the income of the Government will be increased to its normal volume.

A RIBBON OF GETTYSBURG. Philadelphia Record.—John D. Garling of Hagerstown, Md., has a small pocket Bible which he found after the battle of Gettysburg on a camp ground near the former place. Garling is at least the third owner of the book, for it bears upon a fly leaf this inscription: "This Bible was found on the dead body of a rebel on the 5th day of July, 1863, by John N. Wilson, and I take it as my guide through life, with Jesus as my captain, Bonn-Boro, Md., July 7, 1863." The second owner was also killed in battle.

NOT a single nail on earth has followed him except a few simple and all very heavily taxing our goods in return for a free market here.

NASHVILLE, TENN., March 6th, 1893.—To the Editor of the "Public Ledger": It gives me exceeding pleasure to speak of your Antisepic, as I consider it very good. I have used it for many years. My old servant Albert, who is 72 years old, was very ill with rheumatism and dropsy. I consulted with my physician and gave him every attention, but he could not make him comfortable until the end. I then gave him your Antisepic, and he soon began to decrease from the first dose, and a few days later he was up and about again. In three days he was sitting up and in a chair, and regaining his strength very fast. I cannot truly believe it saved the old man's life. Repectfully yours, F. A. Noel Black.

Madge Rests.

Counsel For the Defense Will Outline Their Plan.

They Will Claim That Col. Breckinridge Did Not Ruin

The Plaintiff and Her Lawyer Both Believe That She Had Any Children by Him—The Nodes Contract Never Fulfilled; She Owes the Money.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Col. Breckinridge and Attorney Ben Butterworth, were late in arriving in the circuit court, not appearing until after the roll call of jurors and until after Miss Pollard, with face very pale, but apparently recovering, had spoken several minutes to her son. The two may heads of the defendant and his leading lawyer were bent together in a brief consultation as Miss Pollard walked around to the witness stand.

Mr. Butterworth began by inquiring if Miss Pollard had the contract with James C. D. Miller, which he said she had given him. He asked several questions, but did not say anything more.

The correspondence had continued after she came to Washington. Mrs. Dr. Mary Logan had not recognized her when they first met in Cincinnati, but had before they parted.

Miss Pollard was asked on to explain about that meeting, when Mr. Butterworth cautioned her that she must not wander from the subject, protesting that he was anxious to treat her with perfect fairness.

"I bring your pardon, Mr. Butterworth, she replied, "but you treat me fairly, and I am very grateful. I am so full of things I want to tell you, I can't keep them back."

There was a short little tilt between Lawyers Butterworth and Wilson over the answering of questions, after this, which Judge Bradley answered by declining to answer them, and was not obliged to answer a question just in the form desired by the examiner.

Back to the autobiography in the New York World, came Mr. Butterworth. Objection was made by Mr. Wilson that it had been trespassed over to examine and the same opinion was held by the judge.

"What was the fact about your adopting the name of Breckinridge?" asked Mr. Butterworth.

"When I first used the name, Mr. Butterworth, I had taken it, and I said I might use the name, and I had my card plate made with it in 1890 or '91," was the answer in explanation of the statement in the newspaper article. "I am very weary this morning, and hardly able to go on."

Nevertheless, the plaintiff continued to insist on the name, for when she had been asked about the trunk she had at Dr. Street's in Cincinnati during her first confinement, and Mr. Butterworth read from his manuscript, she insisted that she should give her undivided attention before she would give up the name, which had been laid by the defense upon the description of this trunk, which seems to be important to their case.

"That's all, Miss Pollard," said Mr. Butterworth, to the surprise of the court. "I will not talk about it." Eliza Eliot disappeared through the side door, her attorneys remarking that they had no questions for her. Then said Mr. Carlisle: "The plaintiff rests her case here."

The plaintiff had been under cross fire for days, and every question which every phase of her case had been reviewed from every light, but her attorney did not consider it necessary to strengthen or explain any of her statements by re-direct examination. They had in reserve other witnesses and affidavits, but none.

There was a rustling in the Breckinridge camp of conversation and documents, after which Attorney Butterworth asked for a few moments for his side for consultation and the defendant, his son Desha, and five attorneys, trooped out through the door by which Miss Pollard had entered.

"The delegation from Kentucky retires for conference," remarked a gentleman, who has attended political conventions.

The Breckinridge forces were in retirement, while Mr. Miller, Col. John T. Shultz, and Lexington Ky., law partner of Col. Breckinridge, a short, pale man with light mustache, partly bald head and spectacles, faced the jury to outline the defense.

While the case was technically one for breach of promise, he said, it included a wider question.

"I am authorized by the defendant to say," he said, "and it will be corroborated by his solemn oath, that he did not seduce her; it was never known to him that she had ever been married to him, and the killing of this suit last August, nor did he ever under any circumstances make any promise of marriage to her."

The defense did not intend, he said, to condone whatever was wrong in the relations of the two, and it was only by the truth that defendant wanted to be judged.

A Joke on Coxey.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 22.—After a diligent search the united press is unable to find Wm. H. Jones and J. L. Gay, who were reported in the local dispatches, Tuesday night ready to join Coxey's industrial army with 300 men, 10,000 loaves of bread, 2,000 bushels of flour, two horses and furnish funds to carry the army to Washington. The letter written to Massillon was on St. James' hotel paper, and is no doubt the work of practical jokers.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Prendergast trembled with fear and could not speak for minutes when the news from the outside world reached him broken to his soul. From his pallid lips at last came the question:

"Is it really true?" Then he added: "If it is true then I am astonished. There is no justice in such a decision. Have you got the documents? Let me see them." Whereupon my attorney, Will, I am afraid to say, I have the grace of God, and can quit life without the assistance of priests."

When the jailer scolded him and took away even his lead seal, when he tried to follow, the bars were closed again. Prendergast protested vigorously, saying: "I shall need that if I am going to die. I have some serious things to write about."

"The decision is such a sudden surprise to me," said C. S. Darrow, one of Prendergast's attorneys, "that I am unable to say anything except that we shall at once apply to the governor for a reprieve or a commutation of sentence."

When she first appeared in this country it was as the wife of Jim Varley, an English burglar, better known as "Ed" Billie, who lived in a house on Houston street, near Broadway, and it soon became a resort for the political heelers of the district. That was when Tweed was all powerful. Varley was noted as a slugger, and was a ready minder with a pistol, and was known to keep out of jail by the "Tweed" downfall. Then he killed a man and went to prison for twenty years. His wife immediately secured a divorce, sold the saloon and went abroad. In Paris she met Jim Terry, a Frenchman, and they were married. They went to Cuba to live on his father's plantation. The elder Terry learned who she was and he repudiated the pair. The younger Terry died about ten years ago, leaving his fortune estimated at $100,000, in trust for his two children. Terry's wife died in 1900, leaving over the will. Mrs. Terry being unsuccessful in her efforts to get the money, she went traveling through Europe again, and it was reported was about to be married to a Spanish grandee when he learned of her previous record and broke off the engagement. PLUMVILLE.

Andrew Burgle died near our place of paralysis at 3:45 a.m. yesterday evening. After being sick for months he was unable to speak or remember most members of the family except for a short time, and then he became totally unconscious and remained in that condition up to his death. He was born in New England and was 76 years and 18 days old, having been born in Marshfield, Europe, Feb. 26th, 1821. He came over to America with his parents in 1830 and settled in Cincinnati, where he remained until 1840. He was engaged in shemeaking and mercantile business in Ohio for a number of years, and then came to Mason County Oct. 26, 1840, and spent the rest of his life on a farm. He had six sons and two daughters, and three sons survive him. His remains were interred in the Mayville Cemetery, where he is resting in peace.

ANDREW BENEFIELD, a carpenter fell seventy feet from the Louisville bridge, and may die.

THE C. and O. Road is making a record remarkably free from accidents of late, and much of this absence of that sort of trouble is attributed to the new block system that is now in use on that line.

Especially satisfactory is the passenger service, which is of late receiving special attention.

In his Sunday sermon at Lexington Rev. E. L. Southgate, Methodist, protested against the St. Patrick procession.

As a taxpayer he felt it was not right to bring out the fire department, police force, etc., desecrating the American Sabbath.

The Rev. gentleman seems to forget that in Lexington St. Patrick is a

"bulger" man than Uncle Sam.

YANCEBURG Tabernacle.

A special from Yanceburg says the town is aroused over an indignity offered the City Marshal.

Jeff Smith, brother of Councilman

Dave Smith, resisted arrest, and tore the Marshal's badge from the coat of Deputy Marshal Little Plummer and stamped on it.

He was finally taken to the courthouse with the assistance of Judge Brewer.

Alexander and Frank Parker had threatened Smith, who came out of the house with an open knife in his hand.

After Smith was arrested "Sock"

Parker fired two shots at Alexander

Lawson in a vain endeavor to capture him.

Citizens afterwards caught him.

"THE people of this vicinity insist on having Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but we do not want any other," says John V. Bishop, of Portland Mills, Indiana. That is right. They know it to be superior to any other for colds, and as a preventive and cure for croup, and why should they not insist on having it. 50 cent bottles for sale by Theo. C. Power, Drugist.

Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism; but it can be done, if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following from James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ills.: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today and would insist that every one who is afflicted with this terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50 cent bottles for sale by Theo. C. Power, Drugist.
